Clarity that leads to action

Joe Calhoun, CSP

Business Strategist / Author / Keynote Speaker

Are all of your people focused on what's really important to grow your business?

Daily activities and challenges can quickly pile up, clouding the focus on what's really important to your organization. I'm Joe Calhoun and my goal is to help you grow your business by achieving more results in less time.

In the past 20 years, I've delivered over 2,000 experiences to more than 400 different clients providing the tools and guidance needed to develop leaders and improve performance. Whether through a keynote speech, strategic consultation, or a business growth project, I work with you to uncover real solutions to real problems. Our proven business growth process has allowed clients like Wilson Auctioneers double revenues in one year and WGK Engineers to improve profits by 800 percent in one year.

Client success hasn't come by sitting and listening to a canned presentation. As a Certified Speaking Professional (CSP), designated through the National Speakers Association, I teach the principles of leadership effectiveness and organizational performance with an entertaining, educational and motivational approach.

I've brought my message to four continents and continue to refine our proven process through each client experience. As the most requested and highest rated keynote speaker with Stephen Covey and the Covey Leadership Center, I know the importance of synergy, communication, and effectiveness. I bring these to every client interaction. In addition to helping start more than 20 new business ventures, I have co-authored two breakthrough books, Prioritize! and On the Same Page, I'm eager to share this knowledge with you.

Your organization deserves a proven resource for business growth. Contact me today and let's get started!
